Chapter 422: New Archangel-Level Threats

The Emergence of Archangel-Level Threats

Despite the perfection and balance of the Godverse, threats of immense power began to arise from the farthest reaches of existence. These beings, known as Archangel-Level Threats, were entities born outside the influence of the Divine Triad, some forged in the chaos of collapsing dimensions, others remnants of ancient universes untouched by Sung Jin-Woo’s dominion.

List of Archangel-Level Threats

1. Void Revenants

Born from the remnants of collapsing dimensions.

Wield dark energy capable of nullifying divine light.

2. Primordial Titans

Survivors of the first universes, possessing strength rivaling Nova Titans.

Their mere presence could destabilize nearby realms.

3. Eclipsian Warlords

Masters of both light and shadow, similar to the Eclipsian Colossi.

Known for their tactical genius and destructive potential.

4. Chaos Seraphs

Corrupted entities resembling fallen angels.

Capable of summoning storms of chaos that disrupt divine order.

5. Abyss Leviathans

Gigantic creatures lurking in the depths of the Abyss.

Their roar alone could shatter entire realms.

6. Nexus Dracoliches

Undead dragons infused with Nexus energy.

Wield necrotic flames that could destroy even divine beings.

7. Chronovores

Time-devouring beasts born from broken timelines.

Feed on the temporal essence of living beings.

Gabriel and Azrael’s Mission

Sung Jin-Woo summoned Gabriel and Azrael, two of his most powerful Archangels, to confront the emerging threats.

“My creations,” he declared, “eliminate these intrusions and restore the balance. Show them the might of my Godverse.”

Gabriel: The Archangel of Light, with 600 radiant wings.

Azrael: The Archangel of Death, with 4,000 shadowy wings.

Their combined presence lit up the realms, their divine auras striking fear into the hearts of even the strongest entities.

The Battle Against the Threats

First Encounter: Void Revenants and Primordial Titans

Gabriel led the charge against the Void Revenants, unleashing a storm of light that pierced through their dark energy. The Primordial Titans retaliated, but Azrael’s scythe of shadow severed their immense forms with precision.

Gabriel: “You are unworthy to stand before the Godverse.”
Azrael: “Your existence ends here.”

In unison, they unleashed a combined attack of light and shadow, obliterating their enemies in a blinding explosion.

Second Encounter: Chaos Seraphs and Nexus Dracoliches

The Chaos Seraphs launched chaotic storms, attempting to overwhelm the Archangels. However, Gabriel countered with waves of divine light, stabilizing the realms. Meanwhile, Azrael faced the Nexus Dracoliches, their necrotic flames unable to penetrate his shadowy shield.

With precise strikes, the Archangels dismantled their foes, absorbing their essence to ensure no trace remained.

Final Encounter: Chronovores and Abyss Leviathans

The Chronovores tried to manipulate time to escape, but Gabriel's mastery of light trapped them in an unbreakable cage. The Abyss Leviathans, massive and fearsome, fell to Azrael's scythe, their roars silenced by his deathly aura.

Aftermath: Collecting the Spoils

Once the threats were eliminated, Gabriel and Azrael gathered the remnants:

Essence: The pure energy of their enemies, absorbed into their divine forms, further amplifying their power.

Corpses: Stored in dimensional vaults to be studied and repurposed by Sung Jin-Woo.

Goods: Weapons, artifacts, and treasures left behind, transported to the God Tree for safekeeping.

Return to the Godverse

Gabriel and Azrael knelt before Sung Jin-Woo, presenting their findings.

Gabriel: "The threats have been eliminated, my Lord. Balance has been restored."
Azrael: "Their essence and remnants now serve your purpose."

Sung Jin-Woo nodded, his gaze filled with pride.

"You have done well," he said. "With your strength, the Godverse remains unshaken."

As the Archangels returned to their posts, the Godverse once again stood as an unassailable bastion of divine power.
